

What will happen during your visit?

CONGRATULATIONS!

By making today's appointment to seek help, you've accomplished the most important and maybe most difficult step on your way to better hearing.

LISTENING.

We need to know your thoughts and feelings about your hearing, how it affects your life, and your expectations about possible solutions.

EXAMINATION.

Using the latest technology, we'll perform a thorough examination of your ears for any physical condition that might be cause for further medical evaluation.

TESTING.

Based on the examination, we'll likely perform a variety of hearing tests. Your response to tones, words, and other stimuli will help us quantify your hearing range.

RECOMMENDATION.

After a detailed explanation of exam and test results, we'll recommend the most appropriate course of action and rehabilitation process.

FITTING.

If our recommendation includes hearing instruments, we'll likely begin the fitting process by making molds of your ears for the customized part of the instruments.
